Admiral Says U. S. Navy Now Has Fifteen Colliers and Sub-Transports.

Washington, D. C., Oct. & Referring to the action of ex-Congressman Landis in calling the American navy a "blum". Admiral George Dewey, in an interview with the United Press said: "Landis used an unfavorable word but of course he meant that the navy would be comparatively useless in the event of war without auxiliaries desured.

do not like that word. I believe President Taft put it in a good way when he used the expression, 'for carrying the mails:

"The navy is not quite so helpless as one might imagine from Landis's remark. We have fifteen colliers and sub-transports ready for service. This would not be enough in time of war, and we hope to continue to add to them. We can do most anything with money and in case war was declared we could purchase the ships needed. We did so during the Spanish war, I bought two myself."

"Those purchases were made before the declaration of war, but suppose war should come suddenly," he was asked.

ernment always has ample warning "In my own case," he continued, "I knew when I left Washington in November, that we would go to war with Spain, but Secretary Long assured me otherwise, Although we could buy ships in case they were needed, it would mean a large expenditure at one time. NEARLY BURNED TO DEATH.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. &—Myrtle Treinain, 17 months old, was nearly burned to death yesterday and her mother was severely burned about the breast and arms while rescuing the infant from the top of a lighted gas stove in the family home.

The bady girl was frolicking with her four year old brother, when he playfully picked her up and tossed her on to the top of the stove.

The shrieks of the child brought Mrs. Tremain into the kitchen. With the injured baby in her arms the frantic mother ran to the embragency hospitial. It is believed that the infant will survive.

DISSOLUTION IMMINENT.

Unless something unforeseen happens to upset matured plans, the British Cc umbia legislature will be dissolved shortly and the general elections will take place some time towards the end of November. There is absolutely no reason why an appeal should be taken to the people at the present time, as we have already pointed out, except that the government thinks the season opportune to make the attempt to prolong its life. It is only two years and eight months since the date of the last general elections The statutory term of life of a legislature is four years, so that one more held and the business of the province constitutionally transacted submitting the community to the turmoll, unsettlement and disquietude of an election campaign. But business is brisk at the present time, prospects are exceedingly bright from every point of view, and the govern-(perhaps naturally considering the nature of the government) desired to profit by conditions which it has had no more to do with producing than that approaching celestial visitor,

Halley's comet. . A few days ago one of the govern ment organs, in a moment of extreme candor or artificially produced exuber ance, announced that the Premier had informed it that just as soon as an arrangement had been made with Mackenzie & Mann for the extension of the Canadian Northern Railway to the coast, the House would be dissolved and the government would appeal to the people on its railway policy. We pointed out what a radical departure this was from the already established railway policy of the administration, which was to have no railway policy at all, but to leave the encouragement of railway construction throughout the province entirely to the Dominion government. But there is no doubt now that the Premier's theatrical appeals to the "foot of the Throne" have resulted just as the Times predicted and every one of common political sense anticipated, and all the gas has been let out of the Attorney-General's anti-Oriental bag, that the government is preparing a new election cry, nor that that cry will be railway construction. Coupled with the "policy." Victorians assured, will be something designed to catch their imagination, but not their sober common sense. We have already had hints of direct connection with the proposed terminus of the Candian Northern by fast ferry. Just as if any great railway could establish its terminus anywhere on this coast without establishing steamship connection with the capital, The Grand Trunk Pacific is making preparations to that end already, although two years must elapse before its line is eleted and ready to handle busi-Island can be aroused to enthuslasm by a railway policy such as that the United States would be abrogated. hinted at, they deserve to be con-sidered "easy." TARIFF WAR WITH

UNITED STATES.

The province of New Brunswick has evidently not been intimidated by the prospect of a tariff war between Canada and the United States as a result of the passage of the Aldrich-Payne tariff bill. Premier Hazen says measures will be taken at the coming ses was dramatic. The ques sion of the legislature to protect the and German enmity is probably kept raw materials of his province from a to the front in the hope that it may possible raid owing to the action of affect the acute political situation at Ontario and Quebec in prohibiting the present obtaining in Great Britain. export of pulp wood cut on the Crown lands of these provinces to the United States. proposes to take action as far as his province is concerned. This is one of the effects of the expressed determination of the Republi-can party of the United States as manifested in legislation to force all countries to contribute to the up-builddustries. Three of the provinces of Canada are going to unite in meeting that policy with a policy of self-defence. Whatever benefits there may be in the possession of unlimited quan-tities of raw material they are bound to reserve for their people by insisting upon the said materials being exported in finished form. If the people of the United States are not content with that arrangement and are determined to overcome it if they can, the result st, temporarily at least, be detrimental to the true interests of the peono doubt as to the ultimate result.

American consumers of print paper know perfectly well what will come to pass. They cannot be blinded to their true interests by political sophistries of false protectionist theories. They have already condemned the course of Conrress and pointed out that inevitab

Americans are no longer content with control of the home markets. They aim at manufacturing for the world. That ambition was expressed in the Payne-Aldrich bill and the accompanying notice to all nations that upon a certain date next year all trade treaties with her wealth of raw materials to the best mpleted and ready to handle busi-trol of the home markets. The editorial note which evoked the bove was as follows:

"It is to be hoped that Victoria has seen its last "tag day." Such a performance is more or less of an imposition and the people of Victoria have had quite enough of it. The antituberculosis hospital has other and better ways of raising money than this."

"SPLENDID SACRIFICE"

To the Editor:—The Colonist this morning has a most flattering editorial on the Conservative leader. Mr. R. L. Borden, describing him as "a gentleman of a type that is only toe rare." and quotes approvingly an article from the Ottawa Journal which credits Mr. Borden with being an example of "splendid self-sacrifice."

which credits Mr. Borden with being an example of "splendid self-sacrifice."

The people of Canada, and especially those of the Muscouri type, would like to be shown where Mr. Borden's "splendid self-sacrifice" comes in.

The cold fact stands out in bold relief that the distinguishing feature of Mr. Borden's public career was the salary grab to the leader of the opposition. His acceptance of $7,000 a year, in addition to his sessional allowanse of $2,500 (making $5,500 a year) is surely not an example of Mr. Borden's "splendid self-sacrifice."

It may be said, and indeed has been said by some of the leading and most influential Liberal papers, that the government are open to censure for being a party to such an arrangement. But this is no excuse for Mr. Borden. Canadian history enrolis a list of names of public men on both sides of politics who were in the truest sense men of patriotism and self-sacrifice, men who would scorn to do what Mr. Borden has done. Mr. Borden has no official duties to perform, no departmental business to transact, and no official responsibilities to discharge. He what Mr. Borden has done. Mr. Borden has no official duties to perform, no de-partmental business to transact, and no official responsibilities to discharge. He is simply the leader of the opposition, having a good time at the public expense on a good fat salary for the greater pa of the year when parliament is not in se of the year when parliament is not in session.

Perhaps the public do not begrudge him his 49,500 a year, and may even admire the moral courage he has shown in being the first leader of an opposition known to history to set the example of accepting a salary. But the flatterers of Mr. Borden (however estimable a gentleman he may be) undertake a very large contract on their hands when they attempt to hold up Mr. Borden before the people of Canada as a shining example of "splendid self-

Fully forty peope in every hundred in British Columbia at this season of the year positively need either good bottled porter or a doctor's prescription for a "builder up." It is a fact that every thirty-eight of these people will find Carnegie's Porter as good for them as any tonic a physician may prescribe. Their own doctor will probably tell them so because Carnegie's Porter with all its rich nutriment and with all its tonic, nerve-steadying value makes the stomach do its work better, helps digestion, puts into the blood the kind of nourishment it can use best and helps supply the lack that makes folks anemic. Carnegie's Porter, you see, is not only a sparkling, fine-flavored beverage fit for a king's table-it's a food-drink and nerve-drink as well. You can't do better than use it in your household every day of your life-drink it at dinner-have your wife drink it, Get it from your dealer (only in bottles). M. Santos-Dumont Will Make Public His Plans Soon for Machine.

The Paris correspondent of the Lon-on Standard writes: M. Santos-Dumont has again proved to the world of aviation the practicability of the small aeroplane as com-pared with the gigantic structures of atham, Bleriot and other leading exponents of the science of flying, The Journal gives details of a remarkable flight accomplished by M. Santos-Dumont on his small monoplane, "La Demoiselle," as he calls the machine. Starting from St. Cyr, he flew over the valley between that place and Buc, and landed near the marshes, having flown about five miles over fields and trees in the marshes.

At the conclusion of his flight, M. Santos-Dumont announced that with the desire to promote aviation, he intended to make the patents of his aero-plane, public property, so that any one tended to make the patents of his aero-plane public property, so that any one could obtain plans from him and con-struct one for himself. The cost of the machine, including the motor, was un-der £200. The Journal with truth de-scribes the aviator as "le veritable prototype du sportsman."

The motor is placed slightly above the level of the oblong wings, and the pilot sits beneath it, between the side planes.

The labor party numbers 33 against 566 and the Speaker, but the minority had done great work. They had obtained the free education act and a compulsory education act later on. Through this enlightenment, would come to the children who would carry on the battle in after years. The last King's speech had contained a clause drawing attention to the condition of the poor. This clause, however, has almost been passed over and the poor had another winter to face. There was, however, a bill put through, but when they got it they found they had the bill and the power to apopint committees, but parliament had failed to provide them with money, "We got sympathy, but no money," said Mr. Crooks. Queen Alexandra, however, came to the rescue with a donation of £2,000 to start a relief fund. This was augmented to 140,000. From the new parliament they got £200,000, but parliament afterwards took back £34,000. The next year filey got £200,000, and the following year £300,000.

Curlous proof of the insignificance to the effect of his speech. It was expected to sound the death knell to the

All over London to day are marks and memorials of the activity of the first county council which he inspired and controlled; new gardens, new bathhouses, new working class house and tramways worked by the community instead of by private enterprise for private profit.

News Had Best Change

Never Had Real Chance. It was not altogether Rosebery fault that his premiership was a fail rault that his premierahip was a fall-ure. He never got a real chance. Sil-William Harcourt was entitled to the highest office by his long years of splendid service, by his genius as a debater and as a politician, and he took no trouble to conceal his chagrin. Then the Liberal party at the moment was in the trough of the sea. Glad-stone had expected a his materix stone had expected a big majority which would have enabled him to carry Home Rule even against the hostility of the House of Lords, but he Gladstone knew when he took office that he was a beaten man, and it was only his unconquerable courage and his intense devotion to the cause of Home Rule that induced him to go on and make the attempt once more to carry that solution of the relations between England and Ireland. Collision With Gladstone.

He came into collision with the great Gladstone when that veteran warrior came forth from his retirement and with his dying breadth called upon Europe to intervene between Abdul Hamid and the Armenians whom he was massacreing. And when the Transyaal war began Rosebery openly took the side of the war party, and, not satisfied with this, formed inside the Liberal party a rival and hostile organization known as the Liberal League.

In this league he was joined by Asquith, Haldane and Sir Edward Grey, and by a considerable section of the Liberal party. But the main body of the Liberals was against the war: Harcourt and Morley openly separated themselves from Rosebery; Rosebery resigned the leadership of the Liberal party, and then, almost in despair, the Liberais elected the dark horse, Campbell-Bannerman, to the vacant leadership.

But Rosebery's chances were not

But Rosebery's chances were not even then destroyed. Every one underrated Campbell Bannerman, and Rosebery himself looked upon him simply as a warming pan, keeping the place of leader warm for him when the hour came for him to return once more and demand his own.

And this seemed to be the opinion of the country at large. Rosebery became for a time the chief figure in British politics. He was, indeed, the public orator. Every other politician was discredited—Chamberlain and Balfour on the one side, by their terri-

Alone Rosebery seemed to stand out as the one savior of the country in its hour of darkest failure and most imperilled existence; and whenever Rosebery was announced to speak people came from all parts of the country and the millions waited on his words as f he were a Messiah.

But slowly, gradually, patiently ampbell - Bannerman pursued his ourse and held the position of leader. In the last hour of the general election the two men raced, neck and neck, and it was not till the last hour and ithin an inch of the winning post hat Rosebery destroyed at one stroke its chance. It is not that the people doubt his ability, but that he is regarded as fickle, unstable of purpose, and even cowardly. He makes a big speech and then runs away. He has magnificent asylums in several parts of England. In Buckinghamshire he has a stately palace called Mentmore, which was built by one of Mentmore, which was built by one of the Rothschilds, whose daughter he married. That independence I have claimed and exercised ever since, and propose to continue to exercise and claim. I am astonished that anyone at this time of day should grudge it. For there is nothing enviable or profitable about it; there is nothing to gain; the reward if there be one, is invisible. f there be one is invisible

Alberni Oct. 7.—The annual fall fair of the Alberni Agricultural Society was held in Carlin's hall on Friday, October 1st, and was declared to have been the best ever held in Alberni. There the best ever held in Alberni. There was an exceptionally fine display of root crops, but the exhibits of cattle, sheep and swine did not come up to expectations.

A special feature of the fair was the very fine exhibit from Ucluelet of vegetables and fruit by Messrs. Kvarno, H. J. Hillier and George Grant. The produce from Mr. Kvarino's place was one of the features of the show. Another feature was the splendid exhibit of Rhododendrons shown by George Fraser, of Ucluelet. Mr. Fraser is a well known and enthusiastic horticulturist, and is well known in Victoria, where for a number of years he conducted a nursery and vegetable garden at Mt. Tolmie. "There is no such thing as money," said the doctor, holding out a silver dollar between forefinger and thumb.

"I went into a bar-room the other evening: I counted—how many do you suppose?—forty-two young men, standing there, smoking, swearing, polluting the air with their language. I knew that not one of them would have dollar on Monday. I knew that, with a dollar on Monday. I knew that, with what any one of them spent at that bar, on Saturday, he could have bought ease and security from want in his old age. The sequel of this incident is saddening. The bar-keeper was summoned for selling liquor illegally. He got off without even a fine. Everyone of those forty-two young men put moned for selling liquor illegally. He got off without even a fine. Everyone of those forty-two young men put their hands on the holy book and swore they had never bought any liquor on the day in question — each one making himself a perjured blackguard. Those are the kind of men the passbook would have saved, and the passbook habit would have kept them from bad habits and bad company.

pany. The doctor gave an interesting reminiscence of Charles Dickens, whom he saw in the year 1885, when Dickens was on his last reading tour of America. A friend of Dr. Samson's paid $3, for a seat to hear Dickens, and sold his seat an hour before the recital for $35. It is nights. Dickens and his manager collected something over $220,000 for the readings. Eigsteen years afterwards the manager died in an English poorhouse. Recently, two granddaughters of Dickens himself had been very near the poorhouse. "Ninety-five men out of every hundred," said Dr. Samson, "sre to-day working for their dally bread." He exhibited a passbook of a little Indian girl who had resently commenced to take advantage of the annuities, and had brought him $10 to add to her account, just before the doctor left on his tour. The girl's father, an old man of sixty, was translating the Bible into the tongue of his tribe."

Two of the doctor's many striking illustrations may be given in conclusion. "Let your boy deposit 10 cents a day for one year, and then stop Figure that out at 4 per cent., and you will find the 'result will be an ameunt sufficient to yield him a fair annuity at 60 or 70 years.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK IMPERIAL LIMITED

Second Attempt in Two Years at Qu'Appelle Arouses Authorities.

As the result of the investigations made by members of the R. N. W. M. P., and by private detectives working for the C. P. R., it is learned that the onelusion has been reached that a deliberate attempt was made to wreck castbound No. 96. The leaving open of the west mill switch at Qu'Appelle recently gave rise to the suspicions, and it is known that this is the sec and it is known that this is the second attempt. The former attempt, two years ago, was investigated, but nothing came of the inquiry. The open switch was set down to the fault of some brakeman in neglecting to close it. On that occasion the eastbound train was only saved from the dith by the switch being thrown half way, enabling the engineer to see the way it was set. This time, however, the switch was thrown right across, and the train would have been badly wrecked had it not been discovered.

Fortunately, on the night of the attempt to wreck the train, the eastbound passenger was 25 minutes late. The pusher engine at Maclean was given orders to run into Indian Head to help another train over the hill and to help another train over the hill and the lateness of No. 98 enabled they work the source of the arm of the lateness of No. 98 enabled the lateness of No. 98 enabled they work the swinter get it early. Many of our readers will remember that during the sold heater that will no longer do the old heater that will siven orders to run into Indian Head to help another train over the hill and the lateness of No. 96 enabled the passenger. The pusher backed up from Maclean to Qu'Appelle at the rate of about 15 miles an hour and struck the open switch at this speed. The tender bankment and the wheels of the book and the passenger train would have been on time, the pusher would have waited, and the passenger train would have been on time, the pusher would have waited, and the passenger train would have been on time, the pusher would have waited, and the passenger train would have been wrecked instead of the light enjine. An Interesting Element

Advertising

An advertisement is like a story, it is interesting according to the telling.

If you write it, and the Times tells it, then there are two elements of interest united-you know the goods advertised, and the Times vouches for your intelligence with its acknowledged veracity.

The people of Victoria not only rely upon the Times, but respect those who obtain access to its columns. Every-day readers of the every-day Times easily cultivate a confidential acquaintance with even its occasional advertisers.

It is all very simple, just as we said, like the telling of a story. Be the story ever so good, a great deal rests with the teller. And a good teller can do wonders with a good story.

WOMAN'S WORK FOR THE SAILORS' SOCIETY

Programme for the Winter Outlined-Gift for the President.

At a recent meeting of the Ladies' Guild of the Victoria branch of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society It was decided to resumic Sunday night services. These will be in charge of Mrs. Richard Jones. The treasurer reported that there was 14,000 in hand for the fund to erect an institute building on the sito recently acquired near the outer wharf. A few weeks ago the president of the Guild, Mrs. (Capt.) Troup, received to beautiful plate made from the copper of the Victory, bearing the following inscription:

USES FOR GRAPES.

With grapes again in season the mother should put them up in ne way or another for future use when fruits are scarce. Of all grape preparations the canned fresh juice is considered by physicians to be most wholeome, and it may be given to children besides being especially good for the aged, for invalids and persons having weak digestive organs. The whole grapes may also be canned plain, and ater on made the basis of a number of felightful desserts.

Grape Juice.

Grape Juice.

Remove the grapes from their stems, discarding all imperfect or over-ripe ones. Wash well, place in a large kettle and heat slowly, pressing now and then with a wooden beetle to break the skins. When steaming hot and the seeds separate readily from the pulp, take from the fire. Have ready either pointed bags of muslin or two thicknesses of cheese cloth a yard square. Wring these out in cold water, turn in as many grapes as they will hold and Wring these out in cold water, turn in as many grapes as they will hold and let drip. When the dripping cases set to take out the seeds. Now put skins the clear juice aside and squeeze out as much more as possible. This will not be clear, and so must be put up setartately, but in taste it is equally good. Have ready some syrup made with two measures of sugar to one of water, dissolved and boiled for three minutes. Add enough of this to the juice to make palatably sweet. NEW GRAND THEATRE.

The Ernest Pantser athletic troupe has proved a great attraction at the New Grand this week, where capacity audiences have breathlessly witnessed the feats done by the four performers in the little company. A great deal of the feats done by the four performers in the little company. A great deal of the success of the turn is due to the appearance of the small boy who so cleverly pits his strength against that of the leader, and who equally shares all the merit of the performance.

The other turns at the Grand can be classed as good as any that are on the road. The performers are all thorough and all get a large amount of applause. The singing of Miss Josephine Ainsley is a great treat, while her songs are very laughable and enjoyable. She has been heartily applauded all the week. Spaulding and Dupuce put on a bright talking and singing act in which there is any amount of tun. Spaulding is also a good tumbler and amuses well. Million and Moore, ductists and soloists, possess good voices and were well. Million and Moore, ductists and the pictures and orchestral selections are both bright and entertaining.

Corks that are required for bottling fruits or pickles should be placed in a saucepan of boiling water. After boiling for five minutes, they can easily be pressed into the bottles, and will be completely air-tight when cold. Pickles, etc. corked in this manner will keep much longer than those just tied up in the ordinary way.

Eggs can be preserved as follows; Fill an earthen or water-tight wooden vessel with the eggs. To one part of water-glass, also known as soluble glass and silicate or soda, add ten parts of tepid water, stirring the water-thoroughly and slowly into the water-glass. When the resultant mixtupe is cold, pour it gently over the eggs, using sufficient to immerse them. Three pints of water-glass and thirty pints or fifteen quarts of water will generally cover fifty dozen eggs. Keep the vessel covered and in-a cool place.

LANDS REVENUE MAKES RECORD

REMARKABLE STORY OF GREAT EXPANSION

Annual Report of Department. of the Interior, Just Issued, an Interesting One.

The annual report of the departmen of the interior has been issued and is a remarkable record of the progress of Westerna Canada. The net revenue on account of Dominion lands has been the largest in the history of the department. While there was a falling off in the number of immigrants there has been a substantial increase in the number of free homestead entries granted to agriculturists. of this increase 528,634 was under the head of Dominion lands, owing to the greater amount received on account of pre-emption fees and the increase in the number of homestead entries. It is not the policy of the department to dispose of land by sale and while the sum of $364.422 appears under that head it is made up largely of money's received on account of the sale of frigation, coal and policy of the sale of frigation of the sale of f

"I am not aware of any particular reason for this falling off in the area of land sold. However, in view of the ever-increasing demand on the part of settlers with capital for free homestead land, it would have seemed reasonable to suppose that railway companies would have had a corresponding demand for their own lands as settlers of the type who have been going to the west within recent years, especially from the United States, usually contemplate farming on a large scale. It may be that some of the larger railway companies did not find it to their bedvantage to place their lands on the market. If such be the case, it is certainly to be regretted in the interest of the country, and respecially of the western provinces."

The reputation asked for an exhaustive inquiry.

Deputation Which Asked for Its Removal.

Mr. Asquith recently received a deputation which protested against the exclusion of Canadian cattle from England, Lord Carrington accompanied the premier.

In the years 1899-1891, before the imposition of the restrictions, the average annual value of the Canadian cattle imported was £1.707.000, and for the years 1906-1908 it was £2.327.099. Again, the estimated meat supply of the United Kingdom in 1898-9 was £3.000.000 cwts, whereas in 1907-8 it was £3.855.000 cwts, the increase being due to foreign importations. Having regard to the facts at present before them, he did not feel that the government was in a position, to make any mogification in the existing restrictions, and he could not see his way to grant an inquiry.

P. took place between Charles Marker and Constable Church recently, details of which have only just reached Regina. The fight savored of the old days in the west when every man was a law unto bimself. Marker was a rancher near Ambrose. Between that place and the boundary, Marker was arrested a year ago on a charge of "rustling." He was bailed out but "jumped" the ball. Accordingly the police were notified was bailed out but "jumped" the bail.

Accordingly the police were notified and Marker was located in the United States, just south of the line.

At last a friendly rancher sent in word that Marker would soon enter Canada. Scouts were sent out to patrol the boundary country and watch for the wanted man. Marker crossed the line and was confronted by Constable Church. The policeman pulled bis gun and ordered Marker to hait. Instead, the horseman wheeled and started for the boundary line at the same time firing at the policeman, the bullet passing within a yard of Church's head. Then Church fred and with a well-directed shot brought down Marker's horse.

Deprived of his horse the thief stood his ground. Fearlessly Church rode up and placed a hand on Marker's shoulder. As he did so the horse-thief pressed the barrel of his auto-matter the left pressed the presset of the rode.

Captain Troup was seen this morning in regard to a report that the steamer was to be converted into an oil burner, and he said there was no likelihood that any change would be made. The oil men were in the city a week or two ago, and made a proposition to the company, but they have not seriously considered it. "Undoubtedly oil fuel would increase the speed of the vessel a little," said

"Undoubtedly oil fuel would increase the speed of the vessel a little," said the captain, "for it has had the effect of improving all vessels where it has been used, but we are not considering the matter of making a change. The cost of oil would be about the same as coal, but there would be the additional expense of erecting tanks for storage purposes."

Steamer to Carry Coal to China From Comox Mines.

Steamer Hercules, which is at present in the dock at Esquimalt being overhauled by the B. C. Marine Railway Co., will leave the dock to-morrow night or Sunday morning, but will lie in the harborfor a week more while some small repairs are being completed.

The Hercules has been chartered at £300 a month to carry coal from Comox to Shanghai. It is an uncommon thing for British Columbia coal to be used in China as the Japanese mines have been supplying that coast of recent years. It is generally thought that the new business is the result of the boycott of Japanese goods by the Chinese. The boycott has already redounded to the advantage of Chinese merchants, and now it seems that British Columbia is to bepefit by it.

linquish it now—and showing a kilted skirt below. Sometimes wool skirts have these tunies cut in long points which are finished with hems of dark silk, the tunic fastening at one side of the front under a row of large fancy buttons.

Several graceful overskirt draperies are illustrated, and it will be noted that some of them show the new panniers, or kip draperies. Panniers, of coirse, are a distinct feature of the Louis XV. and XVI. styles, now being revived by the couturiers and panniers. Watteau pleats and pointed bodiess all promise to be important style developments of the coming season. The pannier, at any rate, has come to town but it is a new and much-subdued pannier which its ancestress of the eighteenth century would never recognize; for, while in disputably a hip drapery, it puffs out not a whit in the place where a pannier is supposed to be puffy, but falls limply in Greek like folds, leaving the outline of the slender, eloping hip quite unspoiled.

One of the panniered gowns shown is of shell pink crepe, the hip drapery opening over a petticoat of pink chiffon. Down the centre front is an embroidered panel in faint pink shades and this smbroidery is repeated on the sleeves. In the decopletage is a "modesty tucker," as our grandmas called it, of rich embroidery, showing rose and coral tints. The hat accompanying this frock, designed for restaurant and theater war. while the fur muff matched by a hand some scarf trimmed with brushes and paws will always be fashionable because of the comfort and richness of such a set over a cloth suit, there is a fad this season for fur combined with other materials, even airy chiffons being used in combination with the heavy pelts.

These fur and fabric combination will offer many suggestions to women who are planning to use half-worn furs as trimming on other garments this winter. Fur borders will be very fashionable on long coats of wool materials, and Paris is bringing out some stunning models of broadcal oth and cheviot, with border trimmings of long-haired fur. A green cheviot topcoad designed by Bernhard for a French actress is absolutely simple in line, defining the figure sightly as, the waist and flaring a trifle toward the foot. The only trimming besides the broad band of skunk fur which borders the garment all around is in the huge blittons of shaded green enamel set in black wood rims.

Skunk has been lifted to first place in winter-popularity, and the skin of the despised little animal is really very soft, long and beautiful. Even sealishin coats are trimmed with skunk borders. Not everybody that goek camping can mjoy the luxury of a tent all to himself, the control of the new canopied cot may pitch his tent in any vast wilderness and feel that he had his sleeping quarter all to himself. Over an ordinary spring cot all to himself, over an ordinary spring cot all to himself. Over an ordinary spring cot are rected a cosy tent top of stout khaki olored canvas. No room for suakes to crawl in between the tent flap and the "swing" at the side, which makes American shoes so smart and shapely. Foreign singlers coming from France and Italy wear these long, pointed shoes, but soon discard them for the more attractive American sort. Now the queer, long tode French shoes are coming into style again and some of the new models have vamps twice as long as the pumps which have been worn this summer.

"I merely mention this to indicate to you that there will be no shortage of market for the timber of Vancouver Island. But, of course, there is a great market all along the coast, and in Mexico, in Mexico and Arizona our 125 company has great mining enterprises, and much of the timber which we use in the mines is imported from Oregon. 15 We have tried using a white pine, which is to be found in northern Arizona, but it has not proved as suitable to our purpose as we wish. We shall, therefore, when we get our mills working, import direct from Vancouver Island.

import direct from Vancouver Island.

Pleased With People.

"I desire to say how very pleased I am at the attitude of the people of Vancouver Island towards our company since it became known that we were about to acquire large interest on the island and operate on a large scale. All I have had the pleasure of meeting have shown a most friendly disposition towards us, and I consider that this is a most important matter, when you think how vitally necessary it is that capital should be encouraged to come to Vancouver Island and exploid its resources an dassist in its development.

"We had been told when we were about to come here and engage in business that we would find the taxes very high, and other disabilities. We said in reply to this that all that we wanted was fair treatment—just the sort of treatment that would be accorded any commany formed by Can. of people who have come to me since I have come here and extended a hand welcoming me to Vancouver Island,

Mr. Krutz said that the company's photographer who had been up to the Cowichan district for the past couple of weeks had obtained some beautiful views. The plates were now being developed, and some very fine pictures are expected to be available. In this consection Mr. Krutz mentioned an inare expected to be available. In this connection Mr. Kurtz mentioned an incident indicating how excellent is the average of the timber in the big tract which has geen acquired by his company. He had instructed the photographer to be absolutely fair in taking pictures of the standing timber. On completing his work the photographer reported that he had f dlowed the system of taking three sets of pictures reported that he had f illowed the system of taking three sets of pictures—one view of the best timber that could be located, one group of trees that could be termed "medium" and another group of poor grade. The party found it difficult to get any of the third class. When they did get a bunch of trees located of this third class and came to measure it up they found that it was good enough to be termed first class.

HOW PLANTS SEE.

The power of plants to adjust them-selves in whatever position may be most desirable with regard to the light is very curious, for the movements are are purposeful as if made under in-telligent direction, and yet the plant cannot be credited with the possession of even an apology for any sort of brain, although that is usually looked upon as a "sine quo non" for the seat of intel-ligence.

nation when it falls obliquely. These organs show modifications two main types. One type, formed by smooth epidermis, has cells with a plane outer surface. This is the simpler type, of less perfect design than the other, for it merely allows the light to pass through and fall on the sensitive layer beneath, but does not aid in bringing out differences in the intensity of illumination by concentrating the centrating the rays of light over defi

There are myriads of these organs which serve as a kind of eye, although they are only crude attempts of nature, and at best can do no more than indicate variations in the intensity and direction of the light. They do not even show uniformity of structure.

Experiments that were made upon plants to determine how fine a sense of light perception they possess showed conclusively that many species of plants can detect fully as elight differences in the intensity of light as man, but there can be no comparison beyond a general sensitiveness to light.—American Review of Reviews.

Nelson, Oct. 7.—Fire, which did considerable damage in the engine room of the C.P.R. tug Ymir, was discovered shortly after 3 o'clock on Sunday morning by the night watchman on duty. The Ymir was laying at the C.P.R. shipyard after having undergone extensive repairs, and it was expected that the tug would again resume her freight run between Kootenay Landing and Proctor Monday, allowing of the steamer Moyle tieing up for repairs. The fire team from the No. I. station was called qut but on arrival there it was not needed as the tug there it was not needed as the tug had by that time been towed out to midlake by the steamer Moyle which was also at the shippard. With the ald of the steam pumps on this vessel the fire was quickly extinguished, the damage being confined to the burning of woodwork in the engine room. The origin of the fire is a mystery as the tug was not in steam. The financial loss to the company is not great and it is expected that the necessary repairs will be made that will allow of the Ymir being put into service inside of two there it was not needed as the tug being put into service inside of two

Work is Now in Progress in Man is Convicted on Two Charges-Must Serve Six Months.

Nanaimo, Oct, 7.—R. H. Chapman, of the Geological survey of Canada, was in the city last evening. He is here in connection with a systematic plan of topographic map work which has been planned and started. The mapping began in the vicinity of Victoria and has been carried well up the Saanich Peninsula, where it is still in progress, Parties have just undertaken work in this vicinity which will be pushed as rapidly as may be and as long as weather conditions are favorable. The field sheets are prepared on a scale of about one and one-third inches to a mile. The map will show ryads, trails, railroads, and houses, all streams, lakes and the shore line of the sea waters. The form and height, of the valleys and mountains will all be shown by contours with an interval of twenty feet between them. To do this work it will be necessary to have many miles of carefully run level lines, establishing bench marks for reference, all the roads must be traversed in order that the turns and meanderings be shown and several points, some half dozen, becarefully determined in horizontal position in order that all points on the map may be in the true latitude and longitude.

Vancouver, Oct, 7.—Bernard Labourcher Hillyer, who poses as a connection of private and replace out in on or Hillsh aristocracy, but who was timplyed clearing land at Cedar Cottage, was given three months in the packee couri yesterday. morning for passing bogus cheques. C. J. South and Villam McQueen were the presiding justices of the peace. The specific charge against Hillyer was that he had passed a cheque for $8.75 on the Mood Hotel, He also admitted that he had been indulging in automobile rides and paying the garages with cheques, but said that in giving the cheques he had expected that the money from the Old Country by about Thursday of this work it will be necessary to have many miles of the said that in giving the cheques he had expected that the money would be through from the Old Country by about Thursday of this work it will be necessary to have many

"O, no," said the accused, "I sent the cable to a friend in Kamloops to send on, because I had no money to send it myself, and I have not heard from him "Then you don't know whether the cablegram has been sent or not?" ask ed Mr. Kennedy. "No, but I expect it would be." "We cannot believe your story," re-marked the court. "Three months with hard labor."

Hillyer came up before Magistrate Alexander in the District court yes-terday afternoon. He pleaded guilty to passing a cheque for $150 on Emprey's hardware store at Cedar Cottage. Magistrate Alexander sentenced him to six months' impris concurrently with the term already in posed, so that he will serve nine month

MAY LOWER WATER IN LILLOOET LAKE

Will Prevent the Flooding of Land in the Pemberton Prairies.

New Westminster, Oct. 7.—Provincial Constable Otway Wilkle, has returned from the Lillooet country, where he has been seeking for the Indian suspected of murdering a logger.

The land throughout the Lillooet, he states, is particularly fertile, and the Pemberton meadows are in addition fast and suggests the percentage.

Pemberton meadows are in addition flat and sparsely timbered. The Pemberton prairies are thirty miles long and grow the finest of vegetables and grain, the only drawback being that they are liable to flood from the waters of the Lillooet lake. At the present time a company is being formed with the intention of draining them by lowering the waters of the lake. The intention is to blast a channel between Lillooet and Tenas lakes, lowering the level of the former by several feet and making inundation impossible.

A large dominion government hatchery on the Eirkenhead river, a stream which empties into Lillooet lake, was visited by Mr. Wilkie. He stated that everything in connection with the in-

KAMLOOPS EXHIBITION.

Kamloops, Oct, 7.—Hon, R. G. Tatlow, minister of finance and agriculture, opened the annual fair on Wednesday, He referred to the many advantages and unrivalled resources of Kamloops in the way of agriculture and horticulture. He specially referred to the excellent display of fruit made by Kamloops district in London last year, expressed regret that the same high honors were not gained by the exhibit recently displayed at the Toronto fair and intimated that he wanted Kamloops to again assist in making up a fine exhibit for London. For this purpose W. Palmer would visit Kamloops in the course of a day or two and assist in mare hydrants. Kamloops, Oct. 7.-Hon, R. G. Tatlow, Palmer would visit Kamloops in the course of a day or two and assist in the work of selecting, packing and shipping some fifty boxes of the best firuit obtainable. Hy invited every Take the hint and use more honey, Ask Kamloops fruit grower to co-operate in making this exhibit even finer than that of last year.

FACILITIES FOR

FIGHTING FIRE

Ladysmith is Advised by S. V. Lawry in the Ladysmith, Oct. 7. - In respons underwriters for a reduction in the erty, S. V. Lawry, the representative Mr. Lawry made a careful investiga worth careful consideration. While the While Mr. Lawry has not yet presented a written report to the council, he has no hesitation in expressing his opinions. His first recommendation would be the immediate adoption of a fire limit by-law. That would mean that on the principal business streets and within a certain area only brick, stone, or concrete could be used in the construction of buildings. The roofing of these buildings would have to be fire-proof, and generally the whole would have to be of material that would lessen the dancer of fire yould lessen the danger of fire,

Mr. Lawry's contention is that the city is expanding so rapidly that the methods adopted in other cities in this regard have now become necessary to say of the city as to the careful inspection methods adopted in connection with the installation of the electric light plant, especially as regards the inspection of wiring. He looked over the electric lighting by-law and says it is model both with regard to the

But he would go a little farther and install in connection therewith a fire-alarm system, which he believes, could be done without great cost to the city.

Nelson, Oct. 7.—Arthur Edward Eskrigge, who has been in failing health for some months past, died at the Kootenay Lake General hospital in the 48th year of his age. Mr. Eskrigge was born at New Brighton, Cheshire, England. His school days were mainly spent at Kendal in Westmoreland, After three years spent with Lamport & Holt, the well known shipping brokers of Liverpool, Mr. Eskrigge went to Texas, where he, spent ten and a half years fruit ranching. Two short periods were spent in England and California, and in 1897 Mr. Eskrigge came to Nelson, At first he was connected with the Duncan Mines syndicate, Later he was associated with the Hall mines smelter and for the last few years he had been a resident at Harrop engaged in fruit ranching, Mr. Eskrigge leaves a widow and one daughter, Miss Dorothy Eskrigge, to mourn his loss.

King Continues Conferences With the Premier—Liberals Oppose Compromise.

London, Oct. 8 .- The King thus far has Majesty is still trying, however, to prevert a crisis, and yesterday had another consultation with Premier Asquith, who prolonged his visit at Baimoral Castle.

As time passes the difficulty of avoiding a conflict between the Commons and the Lords increases, the strong party men of both sides being eager for the right.

constituencies when the debate on nance bill was adjourned, in their nance contend that the concessions since the bill was introduced should y its opponents, and express them-as strongly opposed to any compromise.

On the other hand, the Unionists, who have made all preparations for the election, are urging the leaders to do nothing that might prevent an immediate appeal to the people. They have selsed upon Mr. Redmond's statement that the last obstacle to Home Rule would have gone with the disappearance of the veto of the House of Lords, and are declaring that "a vote for the budget is a vote for Home Rule."

In the meantime, the House of Lords is.
